How it Works

When you get a truck loan or lease, the vehicle depreciates faster in value during the first few years than the loan or lease balance declines.

This means that if a "life event" happens to you and you want to sell your vehicle, the actual cash value may not pay off the balance of your loan or lease.

This leaves a "Financial Gap" between your vehicle's value and your loan or lease payoff. That is why TruckSuite Assurance VRP was created.
